WATCH THEM GO TO JAIL TO AWAIT SUPERIOR COURT TRIAL

Bennie Butzlofski, 39, and Joseph Ginoski, 32, were bound over from the Norwich police court to the criminal term of the superior court on the charge of theft from the person, when they were presented and tried in the police court Wednesday. They were accused of taking a gold watch from Joseph Maszkowski Tuesday night at the home of Adolph Burdick, 119 Thames street.

Bonds were placed at $500 for each man, and as neither was able to furnish bonds they went to jail to await the May term of the criminal court.

The trial occupied a good part of Wednesday morning, and at its close Judge H. H. Pettis found probable cause for binding the men over. R. M. Douglas appeared for them and Prosecuting Attorney Lee Roy Robbins conducted the case for the state.

Vincent Vichavala was a witness for the state, testifying that he saw Ginoski hold the arms of the complainant while Butzlofski got the watch from his pocket. Moses Wax testified that the watch was offered for sale by Butzlofski, and the police testified that the watch was found on Butzlofski when he was searched after he had been arrested.

Liquor Cases Tried.
Paul Pribis of 42 Thames street was before the court on the charge of violation of the liquor law at his small store on Thames street. He was found guilty and was fined $200, with costs of $12.51. He was unable to pay and went to jail.

Adolph Burdick, at whose home it is alleged the theft of the watch took place, was also before the court on the charge of violation of the liquor law in selling liquor to the man who lost the watch. The case against Burdick was continued till the afternoon, when the complainant declared the liquor was bought from Burdick's wife, but a warrant was made out for her and court was adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when she was presented on the charge.

After all the evidence was in, both the man and his wife were discharged.

D. A. R. MEMBERS OPPOSING
ROADSIDE TRAFFIC ADVERTISING
Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R. has received the following communication from the State D. A. R. committee on conservation:

Consoling with the resolution adopted at the state meeting of the Connecticut D. A. R. on the American Revolution that the committee on conservation and thrift be requested to take up the matter of unlawful advertising on roadside trees within the limits of the highway and secure the better enforcement of the same, we are sending you to co-operate by giving publicity in your local papers to that part of the statute relating to such advertising which reads:

"Every person who shall affix to any tree, rock or structure within the limits of the public highway any paper or advertisement other than notice posted in accordance with provisions of the general laws of the state, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned more than 10 days, or both."

Such advertising is largely due to ignorance of the law and those so placing signs are generally willing to take them down when asked to do so. Will you urge your chapter members to take a personal interest in the removal of any such signs as possible?

"Every person who shall affix to any tree, rock or structure within the limits of the public highway any paper or advertisement other than notice posted in accordance with provisions of the general laws of the state, shall be fined not more than $100, or imprisoned more than 10 days, or both."

Will you appoint a chapter chairman of conservation and thrift, sending her name and address to the state chairman. The local papers are requested to request and the committee, of which Mrs. H. M. Lerou is chairman, has taken the matter in hand.
